Molyneux Named Feminine Lead In 'Happy Landings'

Bagrano in Male Role; Opening Date Set For December Tenth

Ruth Molyneux and Bert Bagrano will have the leads in "Happy Landings," new Troubadour show, and will be followed by Mildred Burnham and Louise Berryman in feature roles. The leading parts were filled soon after the tryouts last Tuesday evening, and final decision on the minor parts will be made this week from the following candidates: Joseph Danzansky, Jerry Slicker, Dolph Atherton, Trimble Sawtelle, Katherine Wessels, Marjorie Mitchell, Claudy, Gallmeyer, Mary Wheelchel, Tommy Littlepage, and Grant Van DeMark.

"Happy Landings" will be presented in the McKinley High School auditorium Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, December 10, 11 and 12. Troubadours have given their regular radio broadcast hour on WOL, Monday evening, at 7:30 to the Veterans of Foreign Wars to assist in the advertising of the latter organization's Charity Carnival on Armistice Day. Troubadour principals and members of the orchestra will appear on the program, as will General Glassford, newly appointed chief of police.

Played in "Gypsy in Egypt" Bert Bagrano, male lead of "Happy Landings," will be remembered as the very popular leading man in "Gypsy in Egypt." Troubadour production of two years ago. He has recently acquired fame in local circles through his radio and church solo work.

Ruth Molyneux first made her mark in dramatics a number of years ago as a child with the St. Patrick's Players. While at Western High School her participation in the drama and musical comedy was a feature of the school's dramatic successes.

Mildred Burnham will play the supporting young lady role which she first played at the same time in an earlier production, "Sometime Soon." She was particularly prominent in the 1929 show when she was leading lady and co-author.

Gate And Key Sets Fall Initiation Date

Honor Fraternity Announces Opening Dance at First Meeting

At the first meeting of the year held at the Theta Upsilon Omega house on Wednesday, October 21, Gate and Key, honorary interfraternity society, laid plans for an active and interesting program.

At the next meeting, to be held at the Sigma Chi house on Wednesday, November 4, elections of officers will be held for the coming year, and initiation will be conducted for the following men who were pledged last spring: Roy Hoffman, Phi Kappa Sigma; Oliver Pagan, Kappa Alpha; Jack Vivian, Delta Tau Delta; William Fleming, Delta Tau Delta; William Schutte, Phi Sigma Kappa; Gerald Free, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Arthur Kimball, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Harold Leffer, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Richard Hawes, Sigma Nu; William Helvestine, Acacia; and Ralph McCoy, Theta Upsilon Omega.

The above men will meet at the Kappa Sigma house Wednesday, October 28, at 8 p. m. for final instructions before initiation. The instruction committee is composed of Ray Gable, Norment Hawkins, Joe Howard, Malcolm McGregor and Steele McGraw.

The first dance of the year will be given at the Theta Upsilon Omega house on Saturday, November 21. Selected men from each fraternity will be invited to attend. Steele McGraw has been appointed temporary chairman for the dance.

It is the purpose of the fraternity to inculcate more than ever the idea of good fellowship among the fraternities, and to stress the importance of each individual having a well-balanced curriculum of studies, activities and social functions.

A new feature of Gate and Key membership will include the election of at least three members of the faculty as honorary members. It is thought that this will foster a closer relationship between the faculty and the fraternities.

Bloodorn New Med. Director

Walter A. Bloodorn, M. D., was appointed medical director of the George Washington University Hospital on October 13, and assumed his duties in this capacity on October 14. Dr. Bloodorn is assistant dean of the Medical School and chief of staff at the Gallinger Municipal Hospital.

Pi Delta Epsilon to Plan For National Convention

A meeting of Pi Delta Epsilon fraternity to be held Thursday, Oct. 29, at 8 p. m. in the Hatchet Office, top floor, building Y, 718 Twenty-first Street, has been announced by Winfield Weitzel, president. The business of the meeting concerns the nation-wide convention to be held at George Washington next spring. All members of Pi Delta Epsilon at G. W. and any affiliated with the fraternity are requested to be present Thursday.

Law School Mixer To Be Gala Affair

Arrangements Under Way for Social Gathering on Saturday, November 14

The annual mixer of the George Washington University Law School will be held on Saturday evening, November 14, from nine to twelve o'clock in Stockton Hall. Arrangements are being made by the faculty committee on student affairs, composed of Gilbert Hall, chairman; Clarence A. Miller, James F. Davison, and James O. Murdock, secretary of the Law School.

The following student committee has been appointed to assist in making arrangements for the mixer and to act as reception and floor committee:

President and Mrs. Marvin will be the hosts of the mixer.

Mrs. William C. Van Vleck and the other members of the law school faculty and their wives, will receive the students.

This annual mixer is the first social event of the law school. All the alumni and students are cordially invited to attend, as the mixer offers everyone a chance to get acquainted. There will be dancing and refreshments for everyone. Come and enjoy yourselves.

Freshman Assembly Program Announced

Speakers Both Members of National Symphony Orchestra Committee

Two feature speakers, Mrs. Walter Bruce Howe and Mr. Paul Wistach, are on the program of the freshman women's assembly to be held in Corcoran Hall 10 at 12:10 p. m., Wednesday, October 28.

Both Mr. Wistach and Mrs. Howe are members of the executive committee of the National Symphony Orchestra which will open its 1931-1932 concert season at 4:45 p. m., Monday, November 2, at Constitution Hall.

Mr. Wistach is an author, his best known works being Mount Vernon and Tidewater Virginia. His latest book, Tidewater Maryland, has just recently been released from the press. Mrs. Howe is a composer-pianist, known professionally as "Mary Howe."

Previously freshman women's assemblies of this semester have been very well attended. Mrs. Howe and Mr. Wistach are gifted speakers and it is desired that a large number be present tomorrow to greet the visitors. The assembly will, on this occasion, be open to the public, both men and women.

Women's Glee Clubs Announce Fall Plans

Final Tryouts Will Be Held in Corcoran Hall October 31

With an approaching quota of fifty voices, the Women's Glee Club, under the direction of Dr. Robert H. Harmon, is expected to commence an active season within the next week.

Two sections have been formed, the day section to meet for practice on Saturdays at 12:15, and the evening unit to meet on Wednesdays at 7:30. Both groups will rehearse in Corcoran Hall 22.

Saturday, October 31, will be the last day for tryouts. It is the wish of the director to give every woman in school a chance to try out for this organization.

Officers for this season's club are: Sally Casteel, president; Marian Casteel, secretary; and Linda Edwards, manager.

British Debaters Will Open Season Next Friday Night

Gilby and Ronald Will Represent George Washington in First Debate

The debate season will open on an international scale Friday evening when representatives of the National Union of Students of England will clash with two experienced speakers from George Washington University. James Ronald and Ralph Gilby will uphold the negative of the subject, "Resolved, That the debt provides a better method of solving the unemployment problem than does the charity system," against the British invaders, Stuart Craig, of University College, Nottingham, and John Needham, of St. John's College, Durham University.

The debate will be held in Corcoran Hall at 8 p. m., October 30. Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, president of the University, will preside.

All of the participants are experienced debaters. Both Ronald and Gilby represented this University in intercollegiate debates last year. The former is a second-year law student and holds the degree of bachelor of arts from Earlham College, Gilby is a sophomore who came to the University from Spokane, Wash.

Stuart Craig, of the British team, took his bachelor of arts degree from University College, Nottingham, with

Education Official To Address Women

Opportunities in Education Field to Be Discussed by Miss Goodykoontz

On the evening of November 3 Miss Beas Goodykoontz, assistant commissioner, U. S. Office of Education, will speak on "Opportunities for Women in Education," in Corcoran Hall, Room 27, at 8:15. All women registered in the School of Education and those interested in hearing Miss Goodykoontz are invited to attend the lecture.

Tentative plans are now under way for the organization of a Women's Education Club. Florence Marks will briefly outline the idea before Miss Goodykoontz's talk. Small card questionnaires will be distributed to those present to determine the interest of the women in the School of Education and their qualifications to form such an organization. During the summer sessions Florence Marks was instrumental in arranging the tea for women registered in Education which gave them an opportunity to get acquainted with each other outside of the classroom.

A personal announcement of Miss Goodykoontz's lecture will be made in each Education class this week and a written notice to the professors to remind their students of the date will be sent out next week. All women, freshmen, sophomore, junior, or senior, who are interested in education are urged to come.

Sorority Rushing Rules To Be Dropped By Grecian Co-Eds Fifty Years Hence

Hints of Intelligence Tests for Incoming Freshmen Are Revealed, as Well as Prospect of Elimination of Rushing Parties and Usual Slumber Pastimes

Fifty years hence, when our present-day Grecian co-eds have become amazingly youthful grandmothers, some desperate journalist in search of a feature story is going to excavate a worn and yellowed Hatchet containing an account of rush week in the year 1931. And granddaughter will have a huge laugh when she reads of the quaint sorority customs of that time.

Rush parties will by that time be absolutely unknown. No longer will worried freshmen haunt the post office wondering if that invitation is ever coming, or if Bob can possibly go to the dance Thursday night, or if they can manage to study for a history exam some time between four o'clock tea and eight o'clock dinner dance. No longer will active chapter members have to worry about writing dozens of invitations, or being nice and polite to hundreds of assorted freshmen, or studying for that same history exam.

Everybody will belong to a sorority in grandmother's day; and membership in the different chapters will be arranged on a purely scientific and psychological basis.

Tests, Tests, and More Tests

A general intelligence test will be given every incoming fresh, similar to

Managers Chosen For Drama Club's Latest Production

Phyllis Mills Supervises Work; Leo David Manages Business, Publicity

With its background in a mythical and anonymous kingdom situated on an island in the North Sea between Denmark and Scotland, "The Queen's Husband," the Drama Club's current production, will be revealed to the public some time next month. The large cast is rapidly evidencing its capability in rehearsals, and Miss Constance Brown, director, expresses herself as confident that the completed production will be a success as far as the cast is concerned.

Steps have been taken to insure that the production and business requirements of the play will be adequately administered. Phyllis Mills, president of the Drama Club, is acting as production manager with general supervisory duties, and Leo David has been appointed to the position of business manager and publicity director.

Operating under the production manager are six students who will be responsible for particular phases of the production requirements. Hazen Shea will act as head electrician, a post which he capably filled in the last Drama Club play. Florence Jacobs is head of the make-up committee; Theodore Alexander is property manager;

Council Postpones Petition Deadline

Junior College Candidates May Still Enter Race For Election Monday

John C. Crawford, Jerome F. Cobbe, and Horace Haddock are the students in the Junior College who have filed petitions for candidacy to fill the two vacancies on the Student Council from that division of the University. The Council has postponed the deadline for the filing of petitions for candidacy until noon today, Tuesday. The election will be held next Monday, November 2, from 11 to 1 and from 4 to 6:30 in the Lambie Building.

To be an eligible candidate a student must be registered in the Junior College, be in good academic standing, and have completed a minimum of 45 hours' work and one year of residence in the George Washington University. Candidates must be nominated in writing by 23 students in good standing in the Junior College.

Petitions should be filed with Ted Rinehart, Council member, in the Law Library, fourth floor, Stockton Hall. The complete list of nominees who are eligible for the election will be posted Wednesday morning, October 28, in the Student Council Bulletin Board in the rear of Building J.

University Band to Elect Officers in Gym. Thursday

First rehearsal of the George Washington University Band will be held Thursday night at 8:15 in the gymnasium. There will be an election of officers and discussion of plans for the year.

Students interested in the University Band are requested to attend the meeting and bring their instruments as everyone will be given an opportunity to play.

Will Build Addition For Medical School

Large Structure Will House Administrative Offices and New Laboratories

Work will be started on an addition to the medical and hospital building on H street as another step in the general development of the University as soon as the District authorities approve the plans. The new structure will be four stories high to conform to the present one, and will cost approximately $60,000. This building is to provide additional laboratory facilities not only for the hospital but for the Medical School.

Eighty-eight hundred square feet of floor space will be added to the University's present total with the construction of this building to the north and west of the present hospital. There will be interconnecting doorways between the new and old buildings on the second, third and fourth floors.

New laboratories will be provided for bacteriology, public health, and hygiene, as well as additional space for administrative offices. There will also be a special laboratory for the hospital, where all the analyses in connection with hospital cases can be made, and a fireproof record room for the hospital.

President Cloyd Heck Marvin stated that the University "ultimately will move its School of Medicine to a new site on the University grounds. We cannot do anything in this line, however, so long as the general business depression exists." His statement was in connection with reports that the University was contemplating the expenditure of $1,000,000 for a new medical building.

A. S. C. E. Chapter Meets Wednesday

Shoemaker Becomes President; Noble Is New Vice President

George Washington's student chapter of the American Society of Engineers will hold its tenth annual smoker on Wednesday, Oct. 28, at 8:15 p. m., in room 13, Building K.

The purpose of the meeting will be to welcome the new and old civil and general engineers into the chapter. All the civil engineers and those general engineers who are majoring in civil will be present to hear Dean J. R. Lapham, Professor O. B. French, of the engineering school, and an officer of the Washington Chapter, A. S. C. E. deliver short talks, and to absorb the cookies, cider (not hard), and cigarettes which will be provided for the occasion.

William S. Shoemaker is the new president of the A.S.C.E., assuming the office from his vice presidency. Gordon R. Noble resigned as contact committeeman to accept the vacated office of vice president.

There is a movement on foot, sponsored by the G. W. chapter, to arrange the granting of credits by the engineering department for membership and attendance in the A.S.C.E. If such a program could be effected, credits would also be granted to the other engineering societies in the school. This plan is in effect at Cornell and other leading universities, where, as in G. W., a membership in the societies contributes a great deal toward the education of an engineer.

Three Med. Classes Elect New Officers

All Elections Closely Contested; Victors Win by Small Margins

Officers of three classes in the Medical School were elected last week. All elections were hotly contested and candidates won by small margins only.

In the freshman class Osborne Christensen was elected president, Benjamin Manchester, vice president, and Rhoda Lawton, secretary-treasurer.

The sophomores re-elected previous officers. Hilda Haines was declared president; Richard Klutein, vice president; and Florence Brookhart, secretary-treasurer.

In the senior class Robert Boswell was elected president, Irvine Weinstein, vice president, and Darrell C. Crain, secretary-treasurer.

Colonials To Meet Iowa's Gridmen In Intersectional Tilt

Buff and Blue Morale Highest Yet Attained During 1931 Season

George Washington gridmen begin their long journey to Iowa City Thursday afternoon at 4, where they will meet the University of Iowa in a football contest that promises to be one long remembered by the Iowans.

The Colonials have had a two weeks' rest, their game with the freshmen being an excellent workout for the set-to with the Iowa gridmen, and are expected to enter the fray with the highest morale yet attained. It is a known fact that Coach Pixlee has stressed this matter of morale more than any other single factor in his preparation for the middle western fracas.

Iowa's record for the 1931 football season, so far as it has progressed, is rather imposing. The first two games were lost. Despite these setbacks the University of Iowa's most notable achievement was the holding of the strong Indiana eleven to a zero tie score two weeks ago. This score was startling in that it upset quite conclusively the dope compiled by many of the more important sports writers. This past week and the Iowans did not fare so well, losing to the University of Minnesota by the score of 24 to 0. However, considering the caliber of the teams the Middle Westerners have met, and the resulting scores, the Colonials will be obliged to extend themselves to the utmost to achieve a victory.

Squad Is in Good Shape

The George Washington varsity is in splendid physical shape, with the exception of Penlon and Bagrano, who are both out of the playing for the next few games. None of the men were injured in the freshmen-varsity contest and the two-week rest has been a boon for the squad physically and mentally.

In the Big 10 Conference the Hawkeyes are generally considered to have a rather brilliant backfield with Randall Hickman and Jerry Kriz, a pair of driving halfbacks, Captain Oliver Samsen at full, and either Phil Thurtle or the sturdy Joe Laws at the quarterback position. A weak line early in the season made it impossible for the Iowans to get anywhere on the gridiron. Consistent labor by Coach Burton Ingwersen and his assistants have ironed out

Plans For October Festival Completed

Hallowe'en Parade to Copy Mardi Gras; Street Dancing Included

Plans are complete for George Washington University's participation in the October Festival to be held Hallowe'en night. The University will have one float in the parade which will proceed down Pennsylvania to Constitution Avenue. There the crowd will dissemble and join in street dancing and merrymaking. Music will be furnished by nine bands.

Mrs. Barrows and Dean Doyle met a student committee at the Lambie House and an organization was drawn up. The committee is composed of the following members: chairman Richard A. Hill; vice chairman Evelyn Eller; Mildred Burnham; C. Manley Fesler; Jerry Slicker; Betty Rees; and Daniel Beattie.

The October Festival is expected to be an annual affair in Washington. It will be modeled along the lines of the Mummer's Parade in Philadelphia and the Mardi Gras in New Orleans.

Philippine Club Elects D. M. Yap to Presidency

Diosado M. Yap was elected president of the "Philippine Club" at the meeting held in the Corcoran Hall, Thursday evening, Oct. 22. Yap, who is enrolled in the School of Education for the Ph. D. degree under Dr. J. Orin Powers, had his undergraduate work at Northwestern University where he headed several campus organizations. Other officers elected were Juan Silva, vice president; Alipio Diaz, secretary; Felix Peniers, treasurer; and Pastor Vallesteros, sergeant-at-arms.

James G. Wingo, one of the founders of the organization and its ex-president, gave a short resume of the club's past activities. John Barbers was appointed publicity chairman and John Soller, social chairman. Immediately after the meeting a banquet was given in Soller's apartment in honor of the newly elected officers.

It's Time to Settle Down

Rushing, which has been of major interest to many for the past few weeks, is at last put aside for another year. Well regulated as the Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils think they have made it, rushing greatly interferes with our routine of study and classroom work, our ordinary social activities, and with our repose. Fraternities and sororities have their place in college life, and are an important phase, but they very easily defeat the fundamental purpose of the university. The excitement of rushing is too glamorous to pass up, and now that it is over we are just beginning to realize how much of our attention has been diverted from ordinary activity. Don't let this temporary diversion permanently disable you, however, but start now to get back into the good graces of your professors, your families, and yourselves!!!

Out Of Place

It is unfortunate that such an incident as related in "Letters to the Editor" concerning the supposed undesirability of a fraternity man being seen with a non-sorority girl should occur on a campus where worthwhile personal accomplishment has so long been the criterion of personal worth. In our opinion the "fraternity boy" in question expressed merely a private opinion, and did not express the consensus of opinion of the fraternal groups which he purported to represent and which he has no right to represent.

It is doubtless true that fraternity members do tend to associate more with sorority girls than with non-sorority girls, but that is due to the mutuality of group interests, and to a certain extent to the fact that it is much easier to entertain a girl in a group where she is already acquainted than it is to take a non-sorority girl into the same crowd. In none of the fraternities are dates restricted to sorority girls by either group action or by "unwritten" rules.

Students belonging to fraternal organizations and those who do not belong to such organizations work in harmony with each other in all extracurricular activities on the campus. The fraternity acts as a leveler of "would-be smart-alecks" and over-confident youths, for in the fraternities members must stand the gaff of constant association with their fellow students, and weaknesses are not too mercifully dealt with by their more knowing brothers. It is likewise true that in the sororities those who are to earn the esteem of their associates must strive to acquire a properly developed sense of social personal values.

Further comments and ideas from interested students will be welcomed in The Hatchet's columns.

Should Pledges Be Forced Into Activities?

Fraternities and sororities have, in the past, made a habit of commanding their pledged freshmen to get into activities, and make a name for the group on the campus, even though the particular freshman might have no more interest in extra-curricular activities than he does in being goated.

Students who are in charge of the various activities, having to put out certain work and complete certain projects in an allotted time, will not refuse any freshman who is desirous of doing something, even though they may be held up in their program, despite the fact that the freshman may not care whether or not the activity exists. For this reason, besides the difficulties encountered in the work itself, campus leaders must meet with the indifferent efforts of freshmen who are pushed into the activity by paternal organizations.

Freshmen never having had any experience with their new work are very patiently taught the technique of the various fields, and then with the end of the semester and the pledge period they will also end their activity.

The inefficiency and wasted effort resulting from this condition is deplorable and steps should be taken to remedy it now, at the beginning of a new pledge period.

This editorial does not apply to those members of fraternal organizations who really desire to enter an activity for the good of the activity or to benefit themselves, as there is always a position open for interested students, in any campus organization.

CHIPS

Settle down, girls, settle down. The show's over till next year. In this interim between a lot of talking and a lot of silence, you can always use the telephone. But there aren't many girls who can sob just right over the phone, so put your best sob-sister on the wire when you want to clinch that freshman—or make her change her mind. And the goblins will get you, little freshie, if you don't watch out.

My, my! Did you see the cute picture of Frankie under Who's Who? We really don't think they gave Frank credit for all his activities. With all justice we must say that there is a rusher par excellence—for sororities.

Debate! Debate! Debate! Women, we can teach you how to argue with your future husband, or rush for dear old I Ata Pie. (This is an advertisement we are inserting in order to attract the cute and pretty girls of the school. We hope you'll like it.)

In golfing matches on Sunday, one fraternity man was unfortunately beamed with a tiny pellet. When he came to, and when the flurry was over, it was suggested that this was just another case of sandbagging. The Interfraternity Council went into a huddle but could accomplish nothing until the Delt representative recognized the unfortunate fellow as a brother.

Just a few more men added to the campus cut-ups. We hear that Gate and Key will branch off into the faculty. We wouldn't like to suggest any names, but we can think of quite a few profs we'd like to have come to class the next day with "Oh, what a head."

Law students will mix themselves, girls, and other things not mentionable in this school now. We are going over and find out if we can get any idea on the whys and wherefores of a good mixer. We also go on record as favoring more mixers in individual schools. I sure would like to know that blonde that sits on the front row in English I—No, Rollo hasn't passed that course yet, dammit.

Jack Dishman, our original rah rah boy, has gone so far as to give cold, hard, and scarce cash for our football program covers. These architects could give us better covers than that for the money, Jack. Ask the students in life class for a few suggestions.

We now come to the most important step the Student Council has thought up this year. We can now offer each and every student a chance to blow his own horn. For an excuse we bring forth our new baby, the University Band. Of course we know some of our fellow students may be a little two horns, and they are doubly urged to take their wind to Ted Kinschard, who can put it to good use. Come on, fellows! Let's have a real band to keep up with the real games coming our way!

Before you go to the dances, Saturday night, drop in on us and start the evening off right with a lusty cheer for the spoons. And you play-boys will get a chance at last to give off steam unhampered and unspooled by the usual interference. This is one time Little Rollo is going to be a campus cut-up.

And then there's the dear fellow who has been in Junior College for the last seven or eight years, and decides to run for Student Council fame. Folks it is with deep emotion that we urge you to vote for this same fellow—you can't go wrong—he knows by now the ills and needs of this old school—even if he doesn't know his own needs.

Our energetic Troubadours expand more and more! Radio broadcasting is not new to the yodelers, but now they've got to be good. Chief of Police Glassford is going to see to that personally. The V. F. W. likes battles of all kinds, so in place of the usual alley cat serenade, they will substitute our singers. Seriously, folks, this is just another boost for Gee Double You, and the Troubadours are to be congratulated. Also give them a big hand on December 10, 11, and 12. Such popularity must be deserved.

Yaws, my dear fellow, we will debate our English brothers from across the pond next Friday night. All the little women who desire first hand British accents will attend. Rollo is going over and help welcome real international competition.

Rollo is going to run for president of the Y. W. C. A.—well, they're going to have one, anyway. Gee, how I'd like to boss those girls around—there are other advantages, too. Just a tip to you freshman women—here is one way to get an activity. I don't know a thing about it, of course, but from the brawl this club throws in the fall—called the County Fair—I would judge that the rest of the year would be spent very profitably.

Doc Moss brings more moss to our tree of fame with a nation-wide hook up radio address next February. Meantime all abnormal students will be fed ice cream to note the reaction, and all subnormal nitwits will sink.

Loway, loway, that's where the tall corn grows. We'll be with you in spirit if not person, boys. Give 'em good old fashioned H—, and maybe we'll have a Big Ten victory!

See you Saturday nite, kids! You'll recognize me among the other clowns. Dick Rollo

Letters to Editor

To the Editor:

When a fraternity boy on this campus tells a non-sorority girl that he should not be seen associating with her as it is below his station in society to have to do with any girl who does not belong to a sorority, one feels that there is something radically mistaken in the entire social make-up of University life.

Fraternal organizations are an important part of University life, and membership in them is highly valued, as it should be. They furnish a method of social unity and selection and serve to hold together those whose interests are congenial. But they should not result in unfair discriminations against those who do not belong.

Even if we acknowledge the fact that membership in a sorority gives a girl certain advantages which her sisters who do not belong are forced to do without, there is no reason why non-membership should be equivalent to social ostracism. There are frequently circumstances which prevent a girl from joining one of these groups even after she has been offered the chance to do so. But sorority membership does not change the girl herself, and, if she is pleasant to know and go around with, the fact that she does not belong to a sorority should not enter into a consideration of her social qualifications.

Unless the opinion stated in the first paragraph is only that of an individual, it is felt that there should be some fair adjustment of this obviously biased system of social cliques. It would be of interest to hear the opinions of others on this situation which can not be entirely ignored since the sorority and fraternity groups make up only a small percentage of our entire school group.

A Non-Sorority Girl,

BEATRICE V. SPASOFF.

To the Editor:

Would you be kind enough to publish in the columns of The Hatchet, the following letter which I have also sent direct to the Student Council?

"In The Hatchet of October 20, in answer to certain charges made against them, the Student Council made the statement that they had sponsored a 'reception and mixer' in Corcoran Hall on the first evening of school at which all the members received new students for one hour and, together with committees of upper classmen, discussed their new problems with them. I am keenly interested to learn when and where this 'reception and mixer' was held; also who, specifically, was in the receiving line, or who constituted the reception committee?"

HELEN MANVILLE PLITT.

To the Editor:

George Washington University is admittedly one of the finest universities, scholastically and socially, in the country. Among the organizations of this University there is one that is in every way fitted to represent our school anywhere at home or abroad. The organization to which I refer is the glee club.

The recent achievements of this wonderful group have brought them notice from all parts of the country. It was my good fortune and pleasure to travel through the west immediately following the outstanding victory of this club in the intercollegiate contest at Carnegie Hall. I visited several universities, and, in convention, met delegates from every foremost university in this country and Canada. Nearly all of them spoke about the club, asked about the University and expressed great interest in our colleges and activities. The club had given our Alma Mater publicity of the highest type and received enthusiastic and favorable comment from all. Far back in the "pioneer country of the west" in little towns that had never before heard of George Washington University, the glee club had been heard in their national broadcast. The people with whom I came in contact there were extremely interested when they learned that I was from George Washington.

I am bringing these points to your notice for the following reason: This year the glee club should receive the attention and the backing that are due from the student body and from the University. We still have a first prize club and always will have as long as Dr. and Mrs. Harmon direct the group. This year the intercollegiate national contest is to be held in St. Louis. This is and has been the goal of each club. But St. Louis is not New York. It could manage to get to New York or any point nearby, but without sufficient backing from all the club will not have this incentive to urge them on. I am, perhaps, a G. W. fanatic—I bet on G. W. organizations against all comers, and I do not always win—but the glee club is a sure thing from every angle.

The glee club boys work hard and faithfully. They give up many things to make their club the finest there is. It is little enough that they be assured the chance once a year of proving their worth—what kind of a football team do you think there would be if it was denied the opportunity to compete with other colleges, and played just for the amusement of the players? Certainly it will cost something to send the club to St. Louis—but what of it? Do Yale, Princeton, Wisconsin and others wish whom we have a right to rank, hesitate? NOT AT ALL! If it is worthwhile to them, we with a successful prize-winning club ought to think it imperative. Let's get behind our glee club and save them the worry of what to do when invited to join in competitions. They'll bring us further and greater glory if we help them.

Now is the time to think about it, not a week before the event. Back the glee club; cheer the glee club, give them something more than mere moral support and then watch them bring home to G. W. the finest "Bacon" in the West.

DANIEL C. BEATTIE.

World News

By JAMES H. COBERLY

American interest stayed at home last week. Uncle Sam shoved Prentiss B. Gilbert and the League of Nations off into one corner of his mind; political disturbances in various countries in another; Iowa revolt against cattle testing and the National Credit Corporation in still another. In the front of his mind were two major events. The first, the visit of Premier Laval, was of international importance. The second, announcement of the findings of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the rail rate case, had a more local interest.

The much-heralded arrival of M. Laval occurred Thursday. Mayor Walker took time from his investigations and welcomed the French party in New York. A few hours later he arrived in Washington where he was greeted by the President. After a few mishaps such as playing hide-and-seek with Vice President Curtis and delaying Senator Borah's arrival with a tardy invitation, a reception and dinner at the White House were accomplished. That over, the President, Premier Laval and Secretary Stimson settled down to a "conversation." The discussions continued the following morning.

Several "faux pas," many "conversations," receptions, the disappointment of Mlle. Laval at not seeing the Navy-Princeton football game (another mishap) marked the visit of France's statesman. He left late Sunday. A statement was issued by the White House announcing the results of his visit immediately afterwards. It may form a starting point towards relief of the economic situation and disarmament.

Not much headway was made by the League of Nations in settling the Manchurian question. Notes were sent to Japan and China by the leading nations of the world in regard to the situation. Japan killed a few more Chinamen. Then the League accused Secretary Stimson of backing down. Some more Chinamen were killed. Then the League voted that Japan withdraw her troops by November 16. The motion passed 13 to 1. Japan offered a counter proposal. It was defeated 1 to 13. The League adjourned until the 16th of November.

Colonials Victorious Over Frosh Eleven

Varsity Blanks Cubs 33-0; Doyle's 90-Yard Run Brilliant Spot of Game

Playing well but not brilliantly, the varsity subdued the Cubs, 33-0, at Griffith Stadium Friday night. Two of the scores were chalked up by a versatile passing attack while the other three were scored by Kriemelmeyer, Doyle, and Hoffman on jags through the line.

Johnnie Doyle's was really a sensational bit of stepping. Late in the first quarter with the ball on the 40 yard line, the frosh kicked to the varsity 17 yard line. On the first play Doyle cut through the left side of the line, eased by several would-be tacklers, eluded the secondary defense, and galloped the remaining 85 yards to the goal line.

Following this score the freshmen penetrated deep into varsity territory on short dashes by O. Neilson and Vandenberg. At this point Doyle intercepted a pass from Trilling and the freshmen's opportunity was gone.

Passing Attack Successful
Coach Pixlee replaced the varsity reserves with the first team in the second quarter when the former had made no appreciable gain after Doyle's dash. With Kriemelmeyer and Matia smacking the line for gains and a pass from Carlin to Chambers netting 30 yards, the regulars swept down to the freshmen 10 yard line where "Otto" crashed over for the touchdown. Later in this period, following line thrusts by Carter and Doyle, a 10 yard pass from Carlin to Chambers netted another score.

In the third period Carlin and Chambers again collaborated on some neat aerial work and the varsity registered a score on a 30 yard pass over the goal line. Prior to this Kermit Stewart, crashed through the frosh line and tackled Trilling behind the goal, scoring a safety and two points for the varsity.

The varsity reserves came back in the final quarter and registered another tally against the fast firing frosh. Hoffman and Fouts carried the pigskin on line smashes to the 33 yard marker. A pass from Doyle to Clarke netted 20 yards and three line plunges by Hoffman put the ball over the line. Doyle made good on the kick, the only successful attempt in five tries.

Frosh Show Promise

On the whole the showing of the freshmen was promising. The line particularly stood out, with Raskowski leading the play. The work of Trilling in the backfield deserves mention, as does that of Neilson.

A big improvement in the blocking of the regular varsity line was immediately noticed with the shift of Parrish and Stewart from the backfield to the guard positions. The two lads cleared the way for many gains while the tackling of Stewart was outstanding.

Colonials Schedule 19 Court Contests

To Encounter Shenandoah in First Game; Six Lettermen With Squad

George Washington will play Shenandoah in the opening varsity basketball game of the season December 16, according to announcement made by the athletic office this week.

Nineteen tough games are on the Buff and Blue schedule this year and Coach James E. Pixlee will be hard pressed to duplicate his last year's record of 11 victories and five defeats.

The feature battles scheduled for the Colonial court men this year include Duquesne, De Paul, Rider, St. Johns of Brooklyn and William and Mary. The "H street" "tin tabernacle" will be the scene of 12 contests and seven out-of-town games will give the G. W. men opportunity to visit Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Newark, Richmond, Williamsburg, and Quantico. The season will end with a three day jump, February 25, 26, and 27, to include Philly, Brooklyn, and Newark on which the Colonials will meet St. Joseph's, St. John's and Rider.

Regulars returning this year are Burgess, Chalmers, Penlon, Mulvey, Carlin, and Zahn. Promising prospects from last year's freshman squad include Olverson, Hickman, Fouts and Cordova.

Interfrat Golfers Finish First Round

Two Matches Still to Be Played; Semifinals Week After Next

Interfraternity golf got into full swing during the past week and the Greek "Bobby Joneses" have now reached the second round of the tournament.

Sigma Chi trimmed the Delta Tau Delta pill pushers 2-1. The Deltas were sorely in need of their ace, Charles Cole, who has been a veteran of the last two campaigns and won his letter last year in varsity golf.

The Delta team was composed of Anderson, Carnes, Cluster and Fleming, while Brown, Atherton, Prosyte and Orblison played for Sigma Chi.

Sigma Nu and Kappa Sigma played the last of their match in darkness when the Sigma Nus emerged as victors with a 2-1 score. Carr and Nelson played the first foursome for Sigma Nu, while Reeside and Thorne played for Kappa Sigma. Kappa Sigma had the total aggregate score for this foursome, but Sigma Nu won the low ball.

In the second foursome, Beall and Stearns did the Sigma Nu honors, while A. Jones and C. Jones batted them around for Kappa Sigma. In this foursome, Sigma Nu won the lone point of aggregate.

Theta Upsilon Omega completely outclassed Acacia in their match by garnering all three points to the Mason's zero. Vandertward and Hill of T. U. O. played the first foursome against Mumford and Stults, gaining low ball and medal play. Suter and Staten played Snowden and Rice in the second foursome and gained one point. Suter was the outstanding player of the match with a 44 going out and a 39 coming in for a total of 83.

Kappa Alpha and Theta Delta Chi still have their match to play off, while Sigma Alpha Epsilon triumphed over Phi Sigma Kappa last week.

The winners of these matches will be paired off in the coming week to determine which two teams will go into the semi-finals the following week.

Popular Course Conducted By Graphic Art Lecturer

Eugen Weisz, lecturer and critic in graphic art, is conducting an unusual and interesting course in illustration this term which has created quite a bit of excitement in the Graphic Art Department.

The class meets twice a week for criticism and lecture and is specializing at present on poster work. The problem recently completed was a cover for a football program. A prize of twenty-five dollars is to be awarded to the person having entered the best cover. Prizes of five dollars are to be awarded to the next two entrants, and the chosen covers are to be actually used on programs.

The next problem to be attacked by the class will be posters for the Beau Arts Ball in New York in December. The class has eleven members this semester, but it is expected that the class will grow even faster than its reputation has grown.

Sport Axe

By GORDON V. POTTER

Westward Ho! The Colonial men of football start their long trek to Iowa City Thursday evening, with a determined "will to win." Coach Pixlee has been laboring strenuously on the morale of his charges and has evidently accomplished something of note. If determination and confidence mean anything in the winning of a football game the Colonials should come back victorious.

Of course neither I nor anyone else knows much of the morale of the Iowans; all we can judge by is their past record and the observations of Len Walsh and Jim Pixlee all of which behooves our gridmen to not only have the determination to win but to WIN if humanly possible.

The varsity gridders had a beautiful workout in the Griffith Stadium last Friday eve when, practically the whole squad was engaged in defeating the frosh. Coach Jim had a delightful time "experimenting," sending in substitutes to his heart's content. The yearlings' valiant spirit in their sterling defense which, however, was not particularly successful, should be heartily commended.

Kriemelmeyer continued his consistently fine line plunging, while young Johnny Doyle scamped around gaining yards upon yards. Evidently the varsity will be the recipient of a mighty good punter next year if Trilling of the frosh and a lineman in the person of "Swede" Christiansen, remain in the University.

Bugs Bagranoff will probably not be seen in the football line-ups of future games as the injury he sustained in the Tulsa game amounted to three fractured ribs which naturally necessitates his resting for a while. It is needless to mention that Bugs' mighty efforts on the Colonials' forward wall will be sorely missed.

Although the estimable Bagranoff is unable to play football, his broken ribs do not deter or detract from his historic ability as he has the male lead in the Troubador's newest show, "Happy Landings."

A word concerning this controversy over the refusal of the University of Maryland to play a post-season game with Georgetown. Most of the arguments put forth by the various metropolitan dailies, to date, have been in favor of the Hilltoppers. However, there are two sides to everything. No one has thought of asking the players on either of the teams about this game. Anyone who calls the Terrapins "cowards" or who states they have a "repugnance for defeat" certainly must have missed the Maryland-Kentucky game!

Speaking of post-season games, nothing more has been heard about a George Washington versus Catholic University contest. Recalling last year's memorable and mighty impact between these two schools, such a game would draw crowds.

The spectators at the G. W. U. varsity-frosh contest liked one obscure substitute of the yearlings who was adorned with a gorgeous pair of flaming red socks, as they made many an appeal to the coach via numerous raucous yells, to put him in the game. Incidentally, he did not play, after all.

Colonials to Meet Iowa's Powerful Team Saturday

many of the kinks in the forward wall and it is reported that the Hawkeyes now have a line that makes it possible for their backs to get away for long gains.

Forward passing has been stressed with great vigor in practices the last two weeks, and undisciplined by only mediocre success in this form of attack, the Hawks are striving to improve their aerial game.

Weight Averages 182 Lbs.
The average weight of the Iowan squad is 182 pounds, the average weight of the line is 186 and that of the backfield 174 pounds, all balancing very nicely with the poundage of the Colonials.

This tussle with Iowa U. is considered by Coach Pixlee to be a psychological hurdle and he has been preparing for the contest, keeping this idea constantly before the men. Numerous radical changes have been made in the line-up as was noticed in the fray with the frosh and it is problematical as to just who will start in the battle with Iowa University.

The G. W. U. aggregation will leave on the Liberty 4:00 p. m., Thursday afternoon. The contingent will have a whole pullman car to themselves which will be shunted onto a siding at Davenport, Iowa, where they arrive at 2:45 p. m., Friday. The team will engage in a light workout and remain in Davenport for the night. Leaving at 6:00 in the morning the Colonial coach will roll into Iowa City at 8:30 a. m. The game is to begin at 2:30 Saturday afternoon. Their departure will be about 11:00 o'clock Saturday night and the Buff and Blue expedition arrives in Washington 8:30, Monday morning.

Colleges Cooperate
President Hoover's organization on unemployment relief has reported that colleges and universities are cooperating to relieve unemployment by making it easier this year for students to finance themselves in college, thus keeping them from joining the thousands seeking work.

Aesthetic Dancers Prepare For Christmas Production

Varsity Rifle Team Meets With Coach

Barr Re-elected Varsity Captain, Six Other Regulars Return

Rifle for men gets under way officially Friday when candidates for the varsity team will meet with Coach Parsons in Corcoran Hall 16 at 7:15.

William C. Barr, national intercollegiate champion, has been re-elected captain of the varsity. In addition to Barr, six other regulars from last year's squad have returned to the University, and as a result a highly successful team would seem to be in the offing. Last year G. W. won second place in the national championships; forty-one teams were in the competition.

There is to be a comprehensive schedule of out-of-town matches, including those with Annapolis and West Point. All matches will be shot shoulder to shoulder with the opponents, all scores to count. Telegraphic matches with ten men on each team participating and the five highest scores counting are also planned.

There is a possibility that a freshman team will be organized. This will occur if enough promising material can be discovered.

Costume Designing Classes See Jelleff Fashion Show

A program outside the usual classroom procedure was followed by members of the classes in Clothing Selection and Costume Designing of the Department of Home Economics, on Monday, October 19, when they were the guests of Frank R. Jelleff, Inc., at a specially arranged display of fashions for the coming winter season. Following the style show, the students were taken on a tour through Jelleff's entire establishment.

An interesting lecture has been arranged for Tuesday, October 28, when E. J. Murphy, of the E. J. Murphy Paint Co., will speak before the House Furnishings class about paint problems. He will discuss all the paint problems of the house, both external and internal. The lecture is to be conducted in the Home Economics Department, Building C.

Opinions on Smoking

Following are some of the answers given in a questionnaire to freshmen at Franklin and Marshall College to the question: Do you object to girls smoking? "In a way"; "No, but I admit one who doesn't"; "It depends on the girl"; "I do absolutely"; "Yes, in public"; "Well in some cases"; and "Not if they have their own."

Sigma Nus Annex Interfrat Tennis Championship, 3-1

Council Cup to Be Presented to Winners at Interfraternity Prom Next March

Sigma Nu's tennis aces pointed the way to the Theta Delta Chi racquet artists last Saturday afternoon to the tune of 3-1 and clinched the interfraternity tennis championship for the year 1931-1932. Theta Delta Chi made valiant efforts to stem the Sigma Nu tide, but the R Street boys proved much too powerful for the Rhode Island aggregation.

Sigma Nu had previously defeated the three other teams in their league, while Theta Delta Chi had won the championship of their league.

Allen, of Sigma Nu, played Bouve in the first match. Starting out like a house afire, he took the first set in championship form, 6-0. The second was almost a repetition of the first, Allen easily winning, 6-1.

The second match was a little different story for the Theta Delta. Kurner, the Theta Delt number two man, took Mitchell as Grant took Richmond. He won his first set, 6-0, and came back fairly strong to annex the second, 6-4.

Wells-Sterrett Clash Is Lively

Wells, of Sigma Nu, and Sterrett, furnished the action in the third match, which proved to be the best of the whole series. Sterrett began the first set by achieving a 6-4 win. Wells evened things up in the second by scoring a 6-3 triumph. Going into the third set with each fraternity having one win and one loss, both boys played well, but Wells proved the better man by coming out on the long end of a 6-3 score.

In the doubles, Wells and Simpson, or Sigma Nu, played against Sterrett and Kurner. Here the Sigma Nu boys showed their superiority by winning both sets, 6-3 and 6-3.

The other doubles match composed of Henderson and Bouve, of Theta Delt, and Allen and Mitchell, resulted in a 7-7 tie. This was not finished as Sigma Nu had already won their required three matches.

This win gives the Sigma Nu's the council cup which will be awarded at the Interfraternity Prom next month.

Rockne Day, November 14, has been set aside as Rockne Day to be observed at all football games in the country, it is hoped. At that time spectators at all games will be given an opportunity to give toward a Rockne Memorial field house at Notre Dame.

NO NEED to park a "Girls Keep Out" at the top of this advertisement. They'll shy off quick enough when they find out what it's about.

For it's a strictly masculine privilege—solace, satisfaction, retreat, call it what you will—the joy of smoking a pipe!

It's the smoke "for men only," any girl will agree—one of the few rights the women haven't crowded us on. And the only smoke for men, many a thoughtful smoker calls it. For the deep consolation and rare comradeship of a mellow, richly aged pipe are something every man does well to know.

And you taste the rich satisfaction of pipe smoking at its best when you fill up your bowl with Edgeworth. There's a tobacco that's made for a pipe. Cool, dry, slow-burning. Blended of fine, mellow, full-flavored burleys.

You've a rare smoke coming if you've never tried Edgeworth. You will find Edgeworth at your tobacco dealer's. Or send for special free sample packet if you wish. Address Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Virginia.

George Washington Faculty Women To Organize In Groups

Committees to Function Under Leadership of Officers and Chairmen

The faculty women of George Washington University opened the fall season on Tuesday, October 20, with a luncheon at which Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, honorary chairman of the group, was guest of honor. The meeting was held at the clubhouse of the American Association of University Women, with Mrs. John Donaldson, chairman, presiding.

At the business session which followed the luncheon, the names of officers, committee chairmen, and committee members were announced by Mrs. Donaldson, following the report on the May meeting by Mrs. Charles S. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the group. Mrs. W. Hayes Yeager, representing the School of Government of the University, was confirmed as vice chairman.

The executive committee, according to the by laws, will be made up of the officers and the committee chairmen. Mrs. De Witt C. Croissant was appointed chairman of hospitality, with the following committees: Mrs. E. W. Barnhart, Mrs. William Cline Borden, Sr., Mrs. Cline N. Chipman, Mrs. Walter C. Clephane, Mrs. Gilbert R. Hall, Mrs. Oscar B. Hunter, Mrs. Arthur F. Johnson, Mrs. John R. Lapham, Mrs. Harold G. Sutton, Mrs. Edward H. Sehr, Mrs. W. Hayes Yeager, and Mrs. William Cabell Van Vleck.

Entertainment Committee
On the entertainment committee, whose chairman is to be announced later, are Miss Ruth H. Atwell, Mrs. Robert W. Bolwell, Mrs. Samuel F. Bemis, Mrs. Paul W. Bowman, Mrs. Walter L. Cheney, Mrs. Charles W. Hyde, Mrs. William E. Johnstone, Jr., Mrs. Louis E. Kayser, Mrs. Arnold McNitt and Mrs. A. C. Welgus.

Mrs. Daniel C. Chace was appointed chairman of publicity. Two special committees were announced, one headed by Mrs. Robert L. Griggs, to consider the advisability of forming a chapter of Dames, to be known as the Dames of George Washington University; the other, a constitutional amendment committee, to consider proposed changes in the constitution of Columbian Women, of which the Faculty Women is one of the newly formed groups, and to report to the constitutional amendment committee of Columbian Women. The chairman of this amendment committee of Faculty Women is Miss Anna P. Cooper, who has associated with her Mrs. Owen B. Francis, Mrs. J. Orr Powers, Mrs. George B. Roth, and Mrs. William Cabell Van Vleck.

The third Friday in the month was chosen as the regular date of meeting for the Faculty Women, the November meeting to be held in the evening with husbands of the members as guests of honor.

Thomas "Whitey" Stevens

Thomas H. Stevens, who died September 5, had the degree of L. L. B. conferred on him posthumously at the Fall Convocation last Wednesday. He received his A. B. in Education from the Maryland University in 1928, and entered George Washington University Law School in September, 1928.

Stevens was a member of Kappa Alpha, and Phi Delta Phi. While at the University he was business manager of Troubadours 1928-29 and 1929-30. At Maryland "Whitey" was on the freshman and varsity teams in both football and basketball, and on the school paper.

Paul Renno Heyl Speaks At Liberal Club Meeting Last Wednesday Evening

Dr. Paul Renno Heyl, one of the world's outstanding physicists, who has been with the Bureau of Standards since 1920, was the speaker at a meeting of the Liberal Club, held on Oct. 21 in Building K. His subject was "The Place of Reason in Nature." Due to the depth of the speech, no discussion was held afterwards.

In discussing the most wonderful thing in nature, Dr. Heyl said that this was undecided, but that life of man was in the opinion of most the crowning glory of nature. Life is not the most widely spread of all nature's creations, as it exists perhaps only on this planet. Neither is it the most powerful thing, as a single insect can wipe it out. However, it is still the most wonderful thing in nature.

Upon finding the doors to its regular room locked, and no janitor in sight, the club and a group of 30 conducted a mad scramble to find a suitable place of meeting, and finally ended up next to the Library. About 40 in all attended the lecture.

Moss Will Deliver Lectures On Radio

Abnormal Psychology Subject for National Hook-up in February

Professor Fred A. Moss, of the Psychology Department of the University, has been selected as one of the speakers to participate in the radio educational program sponsored by the National Broadcasting Company. He will deliver lectures over a nation-wide hook-up some time during the coming February on the subject of "Abnormal Psychology."

The American Psychology Association, the American Economic Association, and the country's leading universities are cooperating with the National Broadcasting Company in this chain broadcast which will feature well-known authorities on economics and psychology. Every Saturday night for a period covering several months the half hour from 8:30 to 9 p. m. will be devoted to this educational experiment. The lectures broadcast will be supplemented by study pamphlets, which may be procured through the psychology department for a maximum sum of 15 cents.

Another University Building Decorated With White Paint

More white paint! After many a year of yellowness the building which houses the Division of Fine Arts, on the northwest corner of Twenty-first and G, has succumbed to the advance of the University's painters and within the last 24 hours has acquired a distinctive coat of white.

Next in line is the Lambie House, newest acquisition of the University which will trade its dull gray for the sleek clear color that now distinguishes nearly all of the George Washington properties in the vicinity of Twenty-first and G. When this transformation has been accomplished the only University buildings in that locality which will be minus the aura of whitewash will be two on the south side of G street and the more modern Corcoran Hall and Stockton Hall.

Senator King Talks To Commerce Group

Opening of Club's Season Attended by Many Faculty Members

Senator William H. King addressed the Commerce and Economic Fraternity at the opening of the club's smoker at the Hay-Adams House last night. Members of the G. W. faculty present were Professor Donaldson, Professor Owens, Professor Sutton, Professor Buchanan and Mr. Kennedy.

Senator King's speech marks the opening of a season of talks by eminent men on the field of economics. Many of the meetings will be open to the University.

Notched Tab Is Feature Of Lucky Strike Package

Announcement of Lucky Strike's new notched-tab cellophane package is made in this newspaper as one of the advertisements in the current campaign by The American Tobacco Company. In this extensive campaign advertising space in more than 1,900 daily newspapers and 200 college newspapers will be used to set forth the advantages of Lucky Strike's new cellophane wrapping. This improved wrapper differs from other cellophane packages in its new notched-tab feature which permits the package to be easily opened by the smoker. By holding down one side of the notched tab and pulling on the other the smoker can tear off one corner of the cellophane wrapper and open the package as he has always done.

The notched-tab feature makes the package very easy to open without losing any of the advantages of cellophane in retaining the mellow flavor of the toasted tobacco. The new advertising campaign will also explain the benefits accruing to the smoker through the removal of certain harmful irritants by the toasting process including the use of ultra violet rays.

With rushing season over and silence period beginning, one would think all would be calm and quiet. Yet there arrives news of next week end with several of the big and well-remembered annual Halloween dances. Pledges and rushees are forgotten as we bring out and make over our old costumes.

Bethesda Women's Club took the popularity honors this week, when Chi Omega, Sigma Kappa and Alpha Delta Pi gave their dances there with excellent Dagmoir music. Phi Mu chose the Hay-Adams House for their dance. Zeta Tau Alpha gave theirs at the Grace Dodge Hut, while Kappa Delta had two dances at their house.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Tompkins entertained in honor of Orris Page on his birthday, October 20. Among those present were Dorothy Hefebower, Christine Spignul, Russell Coombs, Julia and Bob Barnes, Alice Buell, Duke White, Jerry Sickler and Las Summers.

Many G. Wites both men and women, were seen at the Howard Theatre, Friday night, following the Tulsa game. The midnight show, featuring Duke Ellington and his Cotton Club Orchestra, furnished food for conversation for quite a group of us.

More Co-eds Visit Annapolis

Barbara Jones and Anne Watson spent last week at the game and hop at the Naval Academy.

Lee McNeil attended the opening dances and dedication of the Scott Stadium at the University of Virginia last week end.

Mary Flaherty and Donald Galligan, who were married Thursday, October 22, were guests of honor at a dance Saturday evening at the home of Laurence Gage.

Beta Phi Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha was installed at Michigan State College at Lansing, Mich., on Thursday, October 22.

Nance Hall, Edwina Seal, Barbara Wells, Kathryn Dille and Ruth LaFount are all spending next week end at Annapolis where they will attend the West Virginia Wesleyan-Navy football game, the Regimental hop and the informal at Carvel Hall on Sunday afternoon.

Sigma Chi Pirates Ball Friday Evening

On Friday night, October 30, Sigma Chi will give their annual Pirates Ball at the White Flint Country Club. This ball has been a yearly event for the past five years. Only guests in costume are admitted. On the same night, Acacia and Kappa Sigma will entertain their friends with costume dances at their houses.

Saturday night, October 31, is the date for the Bal Boheme of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. This is also an annual dance of long standing and one which fortunate invitees look forward to with keen anticipation. On October 31, Phi Sigma Kappa, Delta Tau Delta, and Theta Delta Chi will also give dances at their respective houses. These dances are given each year on Halloween.

Among the unique parties given during rushing was a Chi Omega Baby party on Friday, when Chi Omegas and rushees alike reverted to their childhood days appearing in rompers and hair ribbons. Pi Beta Phi gave their annual Arrow Night Club party on Wednesday, when the actives dressed as men, escorting the freshmen. Kappa Kappa Gamma gave what is termed a Doggie Luncheon. The favors at this party were two-toned blue rag dogs. There were many other attractive parties given by all the sororities.

Pi Beta Phi will entertain its new pledges at a dance at Indian Springs Country Club on Wednesday night, October 28.

The Kappa Delta House was turned into a cabaret for last Thursday's rush party. There were entertainers in everything.

Dr. Freeman Speaks On Psychochemistry

Walter Freeman, M. D., professor of Neurology, read a paper on "Psychochemistry" before the Section on Nervous and Mental Diseases at the Eighty-second Annual Session of the American Medical Association States, which stated, in part:

This paper is one of the many original contributions to science made by Dr. Freeman while he has been associated with St. Elizabeth's Hospital as Chief in Clinical Pathology.

WHO'S WHO

Frank Westbrook

Now that the co-eds are getting in step for the Troubadour show and the cast of the Drama Club production is beginning to learn its lines, Frank Westbrook, through his splendid work in dramatics at the University, is the man of the hour.

Frank didn't wait until he came to the University to become interested in dramatics but began at Western High School where he took part in many plays and skits.

In connection with the Troubadours, Frank was co-author of two successes, "Gypsy in Egypt," and "Good Gracious Godfrey," and was in the cast of both of these productions. Before Frank became interested in the writing phase of drama he took part in the casts as he did in "Twice Two is Five," and "Sometime Soon."

Frank has been selected to head the cast of the Drama Club's coming production, "The Queen's Husband," in which role all of the Frankian antics are expected to outdo themselves brilliantly. He has been vice president of the club and played in its first production "The Cassilis Engagement."

In addition to his dramatic work, Frank has been a member of the sub-editorial board of The Hatchet and is the dramatics editor of the Cherry Tree.

His fraternity, Theta Delta Chi, may well be proud of him.

Freshmen, Faculty Advisers To Meet

Orientation of New Students Will Be Completed This Week

Orientation of freshmen, which has been in progress since the opening of the University five weeks ago, is approaching its last step. In the coming week every new student will be assigned to the faculty advisers who will supervise his academic work during the next two years and will be expected to confer with his adviser in the very near future. Office hours of these advisers will be ready for publication next week.

The faculty adviser keeps close check on the progress made by the student in his classes, giving warning where too much has been undertaken and, through friendly association, supplying the mental stimulus which is afforded by personal contact with a mature mind. In assigning freshmen to their advisers each student is associated with a teacher whose special field lies within the student's natural line of interest.

Junior College advisers are: General—Professors Anna Cooper, Lowell J. Ragatz, Alan T. Deibert, Audley L. Smith, Douglas Bement, Irene Cornwell, Benjamin D. VanEvers, William C. Johnstone, Martha Gibbon, Ernest S. Shepherd, and John A. Tillens; Bachelor of science—Professors Walter L. Cheney, Paul W. Bowman, and Raymond J. Seeger; Commerce and Business Administration—Professor Richard N. Owens; Government and Foreign Service—Professor Warren R. West; Pre-legal—Professor Hector G. Spaulding; Pre-medical—Professor Fred A. Moss; Library Science—Professor Elizabeth A. Lathrop; Education—Professor Mitchell Dreese; Home Economics—Professor Frances Kirkpatrick; Physical Education—Professors James E. Pixley and Ruth H. Atwell; Fine Arts—Professor Norris I. Crandall.

Bemis Writes New Book On Diplomacy

Based Study on Newly Exploited Documents Photo-Copied Under Him

Samuel Flagg Bemis, professor of History in the George Washington University, is the author of a new book entitled "The Hussey-Cumberland Mission and American Independence: An Essay in the Diplomacy of the American Revolution," which made its initial appearance two weeks ago. The volume is published by the Princeton University Press.

Professor Bemis has based this study on a wealth of newly exploited documents, many of which were photo-copied under his direction in England, Spain, France, Italy, and Austria while he was Director of the European Mission of the Library of Congress, 1927-1929. The author states in part: "This essay throws the historical searchlight into hitherto unrevealed corners of eighteenth century European diplomacy, particularly enlightening to the student of the foundations of American foreign policy. The documents now brought forward for the first time show how the life-saving French alliance involved the United States in the entanglements of European diplomacy to a degree far greater than suspected by the fathers themselves."

"In May, 1780, after some interesting secret conversations, Richard Cumberland, an English dramatist of secondary rank, was sent to the Court of Spain in the hope of detaching that enemy from its alliance with France. With him went an Irish priest Thomas Hussey (later Bishop of Waterford and Lismore), who was a Spanish spy posing as an English spy, but known by the British Government for what he was."

"The colorful negotiations which followed were most important for the history of American independence. George III, with his obstinacy frustrated any repudiation of the Franco-American alliance by his refusal to allow any foreign power to mediate between him and his revolted colonies; and presently the victory of Yorktown removed all danger to the consummation of perfect American independence."

Baptist Conference Meets November 6

President of Maryland University to Welcome Visiting Students

Registration began Saturday at George Washington University for the first state conference of Baptist College students to be held in Washington and nearby Maryland. Students from all of the colleges and universities in this section will gather Friday night, November 6, at College Park, Md., when the president of Maryland University will welcome the visiting students in the opening address of the conference.

"Victory for Christ" has been selected as the central theme of the conference. Some of the outstanding speakers on the program are: Dr. Kyle Yates, Louisville, Ky.; Rev. F. B. Iger from the University of Pennsylvania, and Dr. Frank H. Leavell, of Nashville. A registration fee of one dollar will include the banquet. Day students who plan to register should get in touch with Kathleen Watkins, Elizabeth Rees, or John Bass. Night students will see Irene McMillin or Bruce Fowler.

Engineering Society Has First Meeting

The first of the regular meetings of the G. W. student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was held on Wednesday evening, October 21, in room K-12, with an attendance of 26. Student chairman Turner presided. The speakers of the evening included Harvey Boltwood, chairman of the Washington section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Mr. Lawrence of the mechanical engineering department, Dean John R. Lapham of the engineering school; and Henry Segrist and Richard Radue, both former student chairmen of the G. W. branch.

Production Staffs Named For "The Queen's Husband"

Mal Sykes will have charge of costuming, a duty which she fulfilled in "The Cassilis Engagement," Dean Hayes will control the off-stage effects, and John Madigan is stage manager.

Many Student Assistants
Acting under these heads of committees will be a number of student assistants: Electrical staff, Dean Longfellow and Almon Spinks; make-up committee, Eleanor Heller and Helen Colton; property staff, Leonard Day, John Wilson, George Hutton and Newell Lusby; costumes committee, Louise Wright, Eleanor Spencer and Florence Jacobs.

Phyllis Mills, production director, has had a wealth of experience in the staging of plays. In 1927-28 she was the director of the Community Center Drama Club in Chicago. While at the University of Wisconsin in 1929, she was production manager for the performance of "Young Woodley," and at Northwestern University this summer she was co-director for the performance of "The Wisdom Tooth." She has also worked with the Goodwin Memorial Theatre of Chicago.

Leo David, business manager and director of publicity, acted as assistant publicity director for "The Cassilis Engagement," last spring.

McKinley Presented To Medical Society

Dean of School Received Formal Introduction Last Saturday Night

Earl Baldwin McKinley, M. D., dean of the Medical School, was formally introduced to the George Washington University Medical Society at its monthly meeting Saturday night at the Medical School Auditorium.

The meeting, presided over by F. A. Reuter, M. D., was opened by the presentation of papers by each of the assistant deans of the Medical School. Dr. Oscar B. Hunter gave a "Presentation of Urological Specimens," during which several very interesting and rare pathological organs were discussed and shown. The relationship of the biochemistry department to the School of Medicine was discussed by Dr. Joseph H. Hoe, and Dr. Walter A. Bloedorn explained the relationship of clinical teaching to medicine.

In introducing Dean Earl Baldwin McKinley, President Cloyd Heck Marvin traced briefly the evolution of the Medical School down to the present time, and pointed out in what ways the Medical School and hospital would progress under the leadership of Dr. McKinley.

Dean McKinley, in his address, promised the Medical School much better facilities for clinical teaching in the hospital, a more thorough and comprehensive curriculum which would meet the student's requirements even better than the present one, and a new laboratory for the use of the department of bacteriology and pathology, the department of chemistry, and the hospital.

Immediately following the meeting a buffet supper was served in the chemistry laboratory.

Meeting Announced For Girl Debaters

Speeches or Tryouts Not Required for Conference Thursday

Women debaters, here is your opportunity! On Thursday, October 29, at 1:10 p. m., in building Q, room one, there will be a meeting for all University women interested in inter-collegiate debate. No actual speeches for tryouts will be required, and although previous speaking experience is desirable it is not necessary.

Plans for the season are almost completed. It is expected that there will be approximately eight inter-collegiate debates—four to be away, two before University audiences here, and two to be presented over the radio. The four contests that will take place away from home are divided into two sections. One team will go to Pittsburgh and possibly farther West; the other will travel into southern Virginia, and later in all probability, will debate the William and Mary team.

Letters concerning the season's proposals have been sent to all sororities, and non-sorority women as well are being urged to attend Thursday's meeting.

Y. W. C. A. Members To Elect President

All University Women Invited to Participate in "Y" Activities

All University women are invited to attend an important meeting of the Y. W. C. A. at noon today in Corcoran 29 when the question of the organization's presidency will be decided. Because of Mary Weaver's resignation from that office and the loss of the existing copies of the constitution, the members will have to determine whether there shall be a new election, or whether the vice president shall succeed.

Members of the "Y" this year will be given their choice of interests in two groups. The social service group, under the direction of Betty Jacobs, offers opportunities to those interested in the "Toy Shop," sewing for the Florence Crittenton Home for the Children's Hospital, or entertaining orphans and poor children. Those joining the interest group, under the direction of Cecile Harrington, may enjoy such hobbies as bowling, swimming, or a study of literature and a discussion of books.

Sorority Entertains National President

Club Members Lunch at Cosmos Club to Honor Mrs. J. R. Gregg

Sigma Delta Phi, honorary speech arts sorority of George Washington University, entertained its national president, Mrs. John Robert Gregg, at a luncheon given at the Cosmos Club on Wednesday, October 21. Mrs. Gregg is the daughter of Ex-president McKinley of the University of Illinois, and is the wife of the author of the Gregg shorthand handbook for secretarial instruction.

In addition to the guest and the club members, two honorary members, Mrs. W. Hayes Yeager and Mrs. Vinnie Barrows were present at the luncheon.

The George Washington chapter of Sigma Delta Phi was installed at the University last year and conducts the annual freshman oratorical contest for women.

Glider Club Adopts 'Buzzards' As Name

Lieut. Barnaby to Address Embryo Pilots at Thursday Night Meeting

The George Washington University Glider Club is no more. It changed its name. With the approval of all those air-minded youths concerned, the organization is forever more to be called "The Buzzards."

Thursday night is the time set for the next meeting. It will be held Oct. 29 at eight o'clock, in room 13, building K.

The Buzzards now have seven commercially licensed pilots to their credit, which places them far in the lead of any other university group in the United States, as far as pilots are concerned. As soon as they are flying their own glider, they will add several other licenses, to their coup stick.

Twenty new enthusiasts were present at the last meeting, almost doubling the membership.

master and Dr. Sizoo be speaker of the evening.

The aims of the club are to promote fellowship among students through their church connections. It is hoped that all Presbyterian students will attend the banquet, to be held early in November; further notice as to the date and place will be given later.

Press Conference Meets At Trinity

Eller, Bain and Marquis Represent G. W. as Journalists Conven

Evelyn Eller, Wendell Bain and Roger Marquis represented George Washington University at the District of Columbia press conference which was held October 24 at Trinity College for the purpose of exchanging ideas which might be helpful to the various publications.

Plans were made for the annual newspaper contest, and a committee appointed to select the judges. The committee consists of Patricia Dunphy, editor of the Trinity Times; Dennis Hendricks, editor of the Georgetown Hoyas; and Winfield Weitzel, editor of The Hatchet.

Newspapers will be judged on the basis of news value, editorial quality, page make-up and balance. It was decided not to include monthly publications and yearbooks in the competition.

Berryman Attends Pan-Hel Convention

G. W. to Be Represented First Time at National Gathering

George Washington will send Louise Berryman as its delegate to the National Panhellenic convention to be held in St. Louis this week.

It is the first time that an invitation has ever been extended to representatives from all universities. Usually the convention is composed of delegates from urban universities where only problems of such institutions are discussed, but it is a new idea this year to combine a representation from all universities.

Louise Berryman, as president of the local Panhellenic Council, is particularly fitted to make the trip. She will leave Washington October 29 and return on November 2.

With the culmination of this year's rush week comes news that there will soon be a formulation of plans for rushing for the next season. Each sorority will be asked to hand in a proposed outline for rushing week. It is hoped that a plan may be secured which will be more satisfactory to all sororities on the campus.

Let's talk Straight from the Shoulder

WHAT you want in a cigarette is taste. You want mildness . . . smoothness . . . and satisfying pleasure when you smoke.

All right then . . . get this straight.

CHESTERFIELD pays top prices . . . yes, and a premium for the ripest, mellowest, sweetest-tasting leaf that grows.

The curing and conditioning is done by specialists . . . men carefully trained in handling these fine tobaccos.

IN BLENDING, also, Chesterfields are different . . . Instead of merely mixing the tobaccos together . . . we cross-blend them. It's like making a new and better-tasting kind of tobacco. That's how we get that Chesterfield flavor. Milder . . . and a more pleasing aroma.

Cigarette paper? Only the purest that's made is good enough for Chesterfield.

PICK UP a package. Note its clean appearance . . . free from heavy inks. It's moisture-proof, too.

And three big factories at Richmond, Durham and San Francisco—operating under the strictest sanitary standards—rush them fresh to you.

Good . . . they've got to be good. Because they're made that way. And most important of all . . . you can taste this goodness in the cigarette. You can tell it in the smoke.

Light up, Mister! Try Chesterfield.

Let the cigarette do its own talking.

You'll get the whole thrilling story, in just two words . . . "They Satisfy!"

"Yes Sir—Mild yet they Satisfy"
